Cult3D Exporter for Maya

A look inside of the Cult3D Designer

Introducing the Cult3D Exporter for Maya

The Cult3D Exporter for Maya is the first exporter that enables Maya users to create e-business ready 3D objects for the Internet/Intranet use, Microsoft Office products, and Adobe Acrobat documents. 3D models exported from Maya using the Cult3D Exporter are stored in a file format (.c3d) that can be loaded into the Cult3D design application. Using Cult3D Designer, modellers can add additional features such as interactivity and multimedia.

The finished presentation of the model is then saved using sophisticated compression and polygon reduction technology and is stored in the locked .co format which is protected from manipulation by third parties. Maya users will now be able to create portable, high quality, real time 3D models with high resolution textures, phong shading, bump mapping and environment maps that have a very small file size.

The Cult3D Exporter for Maya works with all Maya 3.0 NT systems.

The Cult3D Exporter is licensed software that is available to license holders of Maya and is distributed free of charge (may change without notice). The Cult3D Exporter for Maya may be downloaded at www.cult3d.com/designers/index.html
